Step-by-Step Problems with Solutions: Precalculus

Whether data packets reach their destination quickly, slowly or not at all, whether they are closely inspected or ignored, whether they are collected and analyzed or go unnoticed, whether they are stored for a short or long time, passed on or prioritized via recommendation algorithms—all these decisions are made in the dark by unseen and unaccountable corporate and state powers. This is Smith's attempt to protect the poor-expensive goods are usually lighter than cheaper goods—think of diamonds compared to water—and if weight were the standard for tolls, justified, perhaps, by the wear and tear that the heavier goods cause, the poor would carry an undue share of transportation costs WN V.
